I work as a makeup artist in a salon. One day a client came for evening party make-up. During the consultation I found that she is a working lady in sales and remains most of the time outdoors. Before proceeding for make-up, I examined her facial skin with magnifying glass to analyze the skin type. I could see that due to outdoor working and pollution, she had developed combination skin with unevenness on the skin texture. Also she had pimples, white and black heads on and around the nose area with an enlarged pores. Her face shape was round. I prepared her for make-up by selecting products and equipment's. I cleaned her face using micellar water, applied toner and moisturizer. After the CTM, I started working on Contouring and Shading for her facial corrections, to achieve an overlook. Concealer was used to Camouflage pimples and enlarged pores. Shading with one shade darker mat foundation application was used to hide the fullness of corners of the cheeks.
