CBSE | DEPARTMENT OF SKILL EDUCATION

EARLY CHILDHOOD CARE & EDUCATION (SUBJECT CODE-842)

MARKING SCHEME FOR CLASS XII (SESSION 2023-2024)

Max. Time: 2 Hours Max. Marks: 50

General Instructions:

- 1. Please read the instructions carefully.
- 2. This Question Paper consists of 21 questions in two sections Section A & Section B.
- 3. Section A has Objective type questions whereas Section B contains Subjective type questions.
- 4. Out of the given (5 + 16 =) 21 questions, a candidate has to answer (5 + 10 =) 15 questions in the allotted (maximum) time of 2 hours.
- 5. All questions of a particular section must be attempted in the correct order.
- 6. SECTION A OBJECTIVE TYPE QUESTIONS (24 MARKS):
 - i. This section has 05 questions.
 - ii. There is no negative marking.
 - iii. Do as per the instructions given.
 - iv. Marks allotted are mentioned against each question/part.

7. SECTION B – SUBJECTIVE TYPE QUESTIONS (26 MARKS):

- i. This section contains 16 questions.
- ii. A candidate has to do 10 questions.
- iii. Do as per the instructions given.
- iv. Marks allotted are mentioned against each question/part.

SECTION A: OBJECTIVE TYPE QUESTIONS

		Source Material	Lini+/	Dago no
Q.	OUESTION		Unit/	Page no. of source	Marks
No.	QUESTION	(NCERT/PSSCIVE/	Chap.		iviarks
	CBSE Study Material)		No.	material
Q. 1	Answer any 4 out of the given 6 questions on E			r e	Т
i.	Feedback is important in communication as it	CBSE BOOK	1/1	2	1 helps in knowing whether the receiver has	Employability Skills understood the message or not
ii.	Extroverts are individuals, who love interacting	CBSE BOOK	2/3	33	1 with people around and are, generally,	Employability Skills talkative.
iii.	People with histrionic personality disorder	CBSE BOOK	2/3	36	1
	frequently try to gain more attention by being	Employability Skills	_ overly dramatic.
iv.	A row is an arrangement of cells in a horizontal	CBSE BOOK	3/1	41	1
	(sleeping) manner. A column is an	Employability Skills	-, -		_ arrangement of cells in a vertical (standing)	zp.oyaay okuio manner
٧.	The word 'entrepreneur' is derived from the	CBSE BOOK	4/1	79	1
V.	•		4/1	/9	_
	French word entrepreneur , which means 'to	Employability Skills undertake'	CDCE DOOK	- /o	446
vi.	Eco-tourism is intended to provide an	CBSE BOOK	5/2	116	1 experience to visitors to understand the	Employability Skills importance of conserving resources, reducing waste, enhancing the natural environment and reducing pollution.

Q. 2	Answer any 5 out of the given 6 questions (1 x	5 = 5 marks)
i.	(d) All of the above	CBSE Study Material	1/1	8	1
		Early Childhood Care
ii.	Slurring is caused by running words together.	•	3/1	99	1
	The rapidity of speech interferes with distinct	= enunciation.	and Education Stogether. CBSE Study Material Early Childhood Care and Education CBSE Study Material 2/8 87 Early Childhood Care and Education CBSE Study Material 1/2 13 Early Childhood Care and Education CBSE Study Material 2/1 60 Early Childhood Care and Education CBSE Study Material 2/1 60 Early Childhood Care and Education CBSE Study Material 3/1 104 Early Childhood Care and Education CBSE Study Material Early Childhood Care and Education
iii.		-	2/8	87	1
	a) Occupations	_
iv.	Empathy means stepping into another person's	•	3/3	122	1 shoes. It is a process through which a child	- becomeaware of other people's thoughts and	and Education feelings, it is awareness of the feelings and emotions of others. This is another way through which a child can connect with the world around him/her.
٧.	(d) All of the above	CBSE Study Material	4/2	166	1
		Early Childhood Care
		and Education
vi.	Compassion	•	4/1	153	1
		_
Q. 3	Answer any 5 out of the given			1 40
i.	(1) 6	_	1/2	13	1
	(b) Sustainable Developmental	•
••	de this section of the section of th		2/4	60	1
ii.	children's garden	-	2/1	60	1
		=
iii.			2/1	104	1
	(a) Dysgraphia	-	3/1	104
	(a) Dysgrapina	=
iv.	(a) Communication		4/3	171	1
	(a) communication	•	4,5		_
		=
٧.			4/2	159	1
	Emotional intelligence (EI) can be understood	-	-, - as a set of skills associated with understanding	_ one's own and others' emotions as well as using this understanding to guide one's own thoughts and actions, consciously and effectively.				1
vi.	"Theory of mind" refers to our understanding of	CBSE Study Material	1/6	46	1 people as mental beings, each with his orher	Early Childhood Care own mental states - such as thoughts, wants,	and Education motives and feelings.	Course Make ital	11:4:4	Do
Q.	OUESTION	Source Material	Unit/	Page no.	Maria
No.	QUESTION	(NCERT/PSSCIVE/	Chap.	of source	Marks
0.4	Answer any E out of the given 6 greations (4)	CBSE Study Material)	No.	material
Q. 4	Answer any 5 out of the given 6 questions (1 x	o – o marksj

i.	Ouline management had a second	CBSE Study Material	1/1	11	1
	Online resources help promote social and emotional learning skills among kids and thus should be blended with hands-on-play. This also helps students to learn at their own pace and in their own style.	Early Childhood Care and Education	1/1 and in their ownstyle.
ii.	Gijubhai is most known as muchali maa ; a mother with whiskers.	CBSE Study Material Early Childhood Care and Education	2/7	82	1
iii.	(a) tearing and pasting	CBSE Study Material Early Childhood Care and Education	1	05	1
iv.	(b) Diagnostic tests	CBSE Study Material Early Childhood Care and Education	3/2	116	1
v.	It is important to practice drills for safety and evacuation to ensure success in an efficient manner when any untoward incident happens. Detailed floor-wise evacuation plan should be preparedand mock drills should be conducted (for hazards like earthquake, fire, among others) to test emergency plans and update the same.	CBSE Study Material Early Childhood Care and Education	5/2	197	1
vi.	True	CBSE Study Material Early Childhood Care and Education	5/2	189	1
Q. 5	Answer any 5 out of the given 6 questions (1 x	5 = 5 marks)	1		_
i.	a) Use vivid words and compound and complex sentences	CBSE Study Material Early Childhood Care and Education	1/5	36	1
ii.	According to Gandhi ji teaching involves head , hand , and heart .	CBSE Study Material Early Childhood Care and Education	2/2	69	1
iii.	There should be movement- physically as well as intellectually. Therefore, the classes need frequent change of venue. And the mind of the child needed frequent change of subject and topics.	CBSE Study Material Early Childhood Care and Education	2/4	74	1
iv.	School is referred as a 'Mini Society and it plays an important role in the socialization of children because in formative years, school is the social world for them.	CBSE Study Material Early Childhood Care and Education	3	93	1
v.	(b) Over indulgence	CBSE Study Material Early Childhood Care and Education	4/3	170	1
vi.	(d) alternating physically active and quiet activities	CBSE Study Material Early Childhood Care and Education	5/3	207	1

SECTION B: SUBJECTIVE TYPE QUESTIONS

Q. No.	QUESTION	Source Material (NCERT/PSSCIVE/ CBSE Study Material)	Unit/ Chap. No.	Page no. of source material	Marks
Answe	er any 3 out of the given 5 questions on Employ	ability Skills in 20 – 30 v	ords each	$(2 \times 3 = 6 \text{ m})$	arks)
Q. 6	 Capitalize the first letter in the names of all months. Capitalize the letter 'I' when used as a word. Capitalize the first letter in the names of people, places, rivers, seas and oceans, mountains, islands and days. Capitalize the first letter in the titles used before people's names. Capitalize the first letter in every sentence. 	CBSE BOOK Employability Skills	1/2	9	2
Q. 7	 Stay positive and analyse what is going wrong in a certain situation. Resolving the situation is easy once understood. Maintain an accomplishment sheet and enter even small achievements. Keep your thoughts in present. Pondering over past issues makes us feel upset and helpless. Talk to friends and family for comfort. Practice meditation and yoga. Whenever you feel negative thoughts are taking over, take a look at your accomplishment sheet 	CBSE BOOK Employability Skills	2/1	26	2
Q. 8	 Select all rows and columns that have to be sorted Click on Data, and then, select Sort 	CBSE BOOK Employability Skills	3/5	58	2
Q. 9	First generation entrepreneurs are those who do not have any entrepreneurship background. They can be of different age groups and backgrounds. An individual, who starts at the age of 50 years without any entrepreneurship background, is also a first generation entrepreneur Entrepreneurship Skills 85 and someone else, who starts at the age of 17 years, is also a first generation entrepreneur. Organic gardening and farming is the process	CBSE BOOK Employability Skills CBSE BOOK	5/1	114	2
Answe	by which we can grow plants and crops in an environment friendly way. It prevents toxic runoff as no synthetic pesticides are used. It prevents water pollution and soil contamination as no chemical is added to the soil.	Employability Skills words each (2 x 4 = 8 ma	nrks)

0.11		CDCF Ct., d., Matarial	1/2	40
Q. 11	1. It is gender neutral.	CBSE Study Material	1/2	18	2
	2. It makes the reporting of abuse	Early Childhood Care mandatory.	and Education
	3. It makes the recording of sexual abuse mandatory.
	4. It lists all known types of sexual offences towards minors.
	5. It provides for the protection of minors
0.40	during the judicial process	00050: 1 44 : 11
Q. 12	Is a framework designed to promote young children's foremost learning and	CBSE Study Material	3	94	2 development To adopt best practices	Early Childhood Care and to nurture the child's development	and Education teachers need to take into consideration what they know about Child development and learning
	Each child as an individual Every child's social and cultural context.
Q. 13	Central balwadi (at a city center) and Angan	CBSE Study Material	2/8	85	2
	Balwadi or Anganwadi (at locality level)	Early Childhood Care
	Balwadis, are still run either by government or	and Education ngos.
Q. 14	Students and teachers both should be open	CBSE Study Material	3/5	142	2 to multiple perspectives. Discussions that	Early Childhood Care agree with only one perspective lack depth.	and Education Varied perspectives might offer new ideasand exclusive interpretations. As much as possible content should be provided from diverse perspectives. Each individual must have a say in the discussions
0. 15		CDCE Study Material	4/2	161	2
Q. 15	Read alouds and stories Sharing over a variable / averaging account.	CBSE Study Material	4/2	101	2
	Sharing own examples/experiences	Early Childhood Care
	Play in itself provides a platform Following and blood and a second provides.	and Education
	Eclectic and blended use of music Use of emotion/mood cards Nativate and engage 0.16	Motivate and engage Mantassari haliayad in amnayaring	CDCC Church Mataulal	2/2	66	-
Q. 16	Montessori believed in empowering children by fostering independence in them,	CBSE Study Material	2/2	66	2
	"The essence ofindependence is learning to	Early Childhood Care and Education take care of oneself." Practical life activities	anu Euucativii or motor skills, such as scooping, pouring, sweeping, sewing, gardening, encourage independence, responsibility, confidence, and competence. Children exposed to so many varied activities feel valuable, capable, and empowered.
	and empowered.
Answe	er any 3 out of the given 5 questions in 50– 80 v	vords each (4 x 3 = 12 m	arks)	 	1
	, , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , ,	(,

obtain stimuli from the environment. Their proper development helps in getting correct inducements and the accurate concepts are formed. The platform that a child gets to learn influences the cognitive development. The more opportunities a child gets, the better is the reasoning, because he/she will be able to add to his/her mental sizes by learning through these platform Financial capabilities of the family also helps in the development of perception of child. Children from better economic standing get more opportunities and better training for cognitive development. Cognitive development is also inclined by the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents. Their development. As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the developoment of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, tacepts stimuli and replies to them. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q.18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom interiors and the material	Q. 17	•	Sense organs are significant as they	CBSE Study Material	1/4	32	4
Their proper development helps in getting correct inducements and the accurate concepts are formed. The platform that a child gets to learn influences the cognitive development. The more opportunities a child gets, the better is the reasoning, because he/she will be able to add to his/her mental sizes by learning through these platform Financial capabilities of the family also helps in the development of perception of child. Children from better economic standing get more opportunities and better training for cognitive development. Cognitive development is also inclined by the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents. Their development is like their parents' cognitive development. As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom interiors and the material				Early Childhood Care	- getting correct inducements and the accurate concepts are formed. The platform that a child gets to learn influences the cognitive development. The more opportunities a child gets, the better is the reasoning, because he/she will be able to add to his/her mental sizes by learning through these platform Financial capabilities of the family also helps in the development of perception of child. Children from better economic standing get more opportunities and better training for cognitive development. Cognitive development is also inclined by the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents: Orgnitive development. As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development. This helps straight in the development in developing cognition. Through fundilled enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite improvate in development of cognition of various interests. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. C. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecolths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classr			Their proper development helps in	-
The platform that a child gets to learn influences the cognitive development. The more opportunities a child gets, the better is the reasoning, because he/she will be able to add to his/her mental sizes by learning through these platform Financial capabilities of the family also helps in the development of perception of child. Children from better economic standing get more opportunities and better training for cognitive development. Cognitive development of salso inclined by the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents. Their development. As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through furnfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom interfors and the material				and Education influences the cognitive development. The more opportunities a child gets, the better is the reasoning, because he/she will be able to add to his/her mental sizes by learning through these platform • Financial capabilities of the family also helps in the development of perception of child. Children from better economic standing get more opportunities and better training for cognitive development. • Cognitive development is also inclined by the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents. Their development is like their parents 'cognitive development. • As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. • Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. • Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material			accurate concepts are formed.
The more opportunities a child gets, the better is the reasoning, because he/she will be able to add to his/her mental sizes by learning through these platform Financial capabilities of the family also helps in the development of perception of child. Children from better economic standing get more opportunities and better training for cognitive development. Cognitive development is also inclined by the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents. Their development is like their parents' cognitive development. As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. G. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material		•	The platform that a child gets to learn better is the reasoning, because he/she will be able to add to his/her mental sizes by learning through these platform Financial capabilities of the family also helps in the development of perception of child. Children from better economic standing get more opportunities and better training for cognitive development. Cognitive development is also inclined by the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents. Their development is like their parents' cognitive development. As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 n. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material			influences the cognitive development.
will be able to add to his/her mental sizes by learning through these platform • Financial capabilities of the family also helps in the development of perception of child. Children from better economic standing get more opportunities and better training for cognitive development. • Cognitive development is also inclined by the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents. Their development is like their parents' cognitive development. • As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. • Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. • Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material			The more opportunities a child gets, the
will be able to add to his/her mental sizes by learning through these platform • Financial capabilities of the family also helps in the development of perception of child. Children from better economic standing get more opportunities and better training for cognitive development. • Cognitive development is also inclined by the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents. Their development is like their parents' cognitive development. • As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. • Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. • Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material			better is the reasoning, because he/she by learning through these platform Financial capabilities of the family also helps in the development of perception of child. Children from better economic standing get more opportunities and better training for cognitive development. Cognitive development is also inclined by the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents. Their development. As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom environment.
Financial capabilities of the family also helps in the development of perception of child. Children from better economic standing get more opportunities and better training for cognitive development. Cognitive development is also inclined by the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents. Their development is like their parents' cognitive development. As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material			· helps in the development of perception of child. Children from better economic standing get more opportunities and better training for cognitive development. • Cognitive development is also inclined by the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents. Their development is like their parents' cognitive development. • As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. • Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. • Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material		• of child. Children from better economic standing get more opportunities and better training for cognitive development. • Cognitive development is also inclined by the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents. Their development is like their parents' cognitive development. • As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. • Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. • Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material			· standing get more opportunities and better training for cognitive development. • Cognitive development is also inclined by the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents. Their development. • As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. • Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. • Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom environment.
better training for cognitive development. Cognitive development is also inclined by the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents. Their development is like their parents' cognitive development. As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material development. Cognitive development is also inclined by the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents. Their development is like their parents' cognitive development. As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. C. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material Cognitive development is also inclined by the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents. Their development is like their parents' cognitive development. As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material the hereditary traits; one gets from his/her parents. Their development is like their parents' cognitive development. • As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. • Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. • Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material		• his/her parents. Their development is like their parents' cognitive development. As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material their parents' cognitive development. As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material			•
As the child gets settled, he/she gets more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material			• more collaborative with the environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material environment. For positive cognitive development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material		• development, interaction with the environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material environment is very essential which the child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. • Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. • Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. C. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material child does with the help of his/her mental and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material			• and motorized development. This helps straight in the development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material			• straight in the development of cognition. Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material Family plays a significant role in providing the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. G. 18 Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material the child hereditary traits, Also providing encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. • Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material encouraging atmosphere to the child enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material		• enables children get maximum stimuli from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material from the environment, he/she would be encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material encouraged to learn in this environment. Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material Fun time is also quite important in developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material developing cognition. Through funfilled activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material			_ activities, the child interacts with the environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material		•	· environment, accepts stimuli and replies to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material to them. Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material			•
Q. 18 a. Great care is taken to construct an environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material			· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · environment that allows for the easy exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material					- 1 - exploration of various interests. b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material	Q. 18	a.		-	2/6	81	4
b. The documentation mentioned above is often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material			•	Early Childhood Care often kept at children's eye level so that they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material			-	and Education they, too, can see how they are progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material		b. progressing over the year. c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material
c. Items from home, such as real dishware, tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material			· tablecloths, plants, and animals, contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material contribute to a comforting, "homely" classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material		C.
classroom environment. d. classroom interiors and the material
d. classroom interiors and the material ١.
holp children make thoughtful decisions		d.
Help children make thoughtful decisions			help children make thoughtful decisions about the what they would like to use for different projects e. Document of children's progress using many different methods, such as: video photographs, tape recordings, work portfolios, and recorded dictations are displayed to make the child feel relevant and proud. f. Teachers form a class group of other teachers and parents to help compare information and adjust to the special needs and interests of children.

Q. 19 • Sight reading is incidental, casual, CBSE Study Material 3/1 97	4 informal way of linking written and Early Childhood Care	- spoken word.(label the chair, door, and Education cupboard, jars of different colour etc.
and analysing the child associate the words with the objects) Conversation which should be purposeful, structured with objectives well defined and of short duration keeping in mind the attention span of a child. Conversation sessions may include sessions between - Teacher and child, child and child or general discussion.
(Use of pictures, flash cards, feely bag, toy box, show and tell sessions, and puppets can be used creatively by the teacher.)
Story Telling should be age appropriate accompanied by some visual aid, voice modulation, expression and gestures.
Dramatization, Mime and Role Play can be used effectively for language development.
Bed time reading short stories to shildren is effective. It is seen that children is effective. It is seen that children like repetition hence they like to hear the same story again and again initially. It is interesting to note that after a few months of repeating the same story if you skip a line they will immediately intervene when even a line has been missed. At a later stage showing them the words that are being read help for incidental learning to take place.
When the child reaches the stage of A stage of the reading it is important to ensure that the book is age appropriate, colourful, and graphically /visually graphically / visually

Q. 20	• Empathize with the child: Acknowledge what a child is experiencing and share your own experience of dealing with a similar situation. This will enable the child to take perspective that he/she is not alone in feeling the way they do. For example, "Are you feeling sad because your toy broke? I also felt the same when my pen was broken. Let's try to fix it, come on!"
	 Express your feelings: The way you express feelings will provide children an opportunity to not only share their own feelings but also give them the vocabulary to express themselves in future. For example, in circle time Ms

- express your feelings: The way you express feelings will provide children an opportunity to not only share their own feelings but also give them the vocabulary to express themselves in future. For example, in circle time Ms Meenu sings the rhyme 'If you are happy' daily and has introduced feelings like happy, sad, angry, scared. In order to encourage children to talk about themselves, one day she shares how she feels sad when Dhruv and Raghav fight. This opened a forum of discussion to all and children started sharing when they too felt sad and also discussied ways on what they would like to do to feel better at that time. Piya shared that she cries in the morning as she doesn't like to leave her mummy alone at home.
- Talk about others' feelings: Teachers must share their own feelings to give words to express others feelings and communicate it to children. Saying, "Simran looks sad as you took the car out of her hand without her permission. Would you like to return it to her and request her to give it to you once she's done playing with it?" will have a far greater and lasting impact on a child's mind rather than snatching the car and giving it back to Simran. Also, asking questions like "How do you think Simran feels when you take away the car she is playing with?" will provide a chance for the child to reflect on the situation, talk about feelings and empathize.
- Model empathetic behavior: In the book 'Developing Empathy in the Early Years: A Guide for Practitioners', Garnett mentions that "empathy is caught not taught". From imitating expressions of primary caregivers in the first year of life to adopting habits and values in the second and third year of life, children learn majorly through imitation. Parents,

CBSE Study Material	4/1	155	4
Early Childhood Care
and Education
		1	1

	caregivers and siblings unconsciously teach empathy to young children by modeling. The way primary caregivers respond empathetically to others influences empathy of young children and it is reflected in their actions in different situations. Read stories about feelings and empathy: Stories are one of the most powerful media to discuss human values. Children given meaning to their lives and make sense of the word around them through stories. Realistic literature for children can provide an opportunity for teachers and parents to discuss social skills and nurture them in young children. The books about feelings and emotions should be part of classroom libraries. Suggested books are mentioned as part of appendices to this unit.
Q. 21	 Seeking prior permission/information from the place of visit. 	CBSE Study Material Early Childhood Care	5/2	194	4
	 Parents must be informed at least one day in advance about the field-trip. 	and Education Atleast one teacher must accompany children in every vehicle.
	 All children must wear prescribed uniform on a day visit outside the school.
				i	1
	 Proper head count to be taken while boarding and de-boarding the bus.
	·				